Access from OFF-Campus

1. Dial-up to the AU modem pool

This is the best option as you get access to all the library electronic resources as if you were on campus. When your modem connects to the AU modem dial-up service from off-campus, your computer logs into part of the University network. You can then access electronic resources without needing to enter any login details.

2. Use AU's proxy

The AU's proxy provides the library electronic resources from off campus access by set it on your Internet Explorer window.

Please see Example how to set it up on your computer at;
